WEDDING BELLS.

Dixon—McCaun.

Mr. Geo. Dixon and Miss Eura May McCaun were married Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Brooks Davis in the McCaun neighborhood. Rev. Mr. Gaudron pronounced the words that made them man and wife. The attendants were Misses B. L. McCaun, Jennie May Jones, Etta Jones and Annie Haley. A number of young people from Columbia attended the wedding and the whole party returned to the city afterwards. The bride and groom are now visiting at Mr. Jones in South Columbia. They will leave shortly for Charleston and other cities in South Carolina. The bride is the step-daughter of Brooks Davis, her mother having been the widow McCaun before marrying Mr. Davis. She is a charming young lady, with many gifts and graces of person and character. The groom was formerly in business here, but has lived for a number of years in Charleston. The happy couple are receiving showers of congratulations from all sides.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

Death of An Infant.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Guest, which was born last Saturday, died on Sunday, and was buried at Rose Hill on the same day.

Died at Spring Hill.

Mr. Wm. D. Meadow died on Sunday morning at the residence of Dr. W. E. Martin, of Spring Hill, ripe in honors and years. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. Mr. Ransom, C. E. Sullivan and T. J. Dixon were held in the Methodist Church at Spring Hill on Monday and the remains were brought to Columbia and buried at Rose Hill Cemetery.

Died at the Age of 84 Years.

Mr. Henry Agent died at his home on Bear Creek last Sunday from extreme old age. He was in his 85th year, being one of the oldest men in the country. He leaves a large family to mourn his loss. His remains were interred at the family graveyard last Monday. Mr. John West was the undertaker who superintended the funeral arrangements.

A Ratty Adventure.

Duck River has been on a tear lately. The water got into Ashton's mill for the first time since last winter. It ran hundreds of rats from their hiding places in the lower part of the building, and put them at the mercy of the millers. The doors were closed so that the long tailed rogues could not get up stairs, and the water surrounded the building so that they could not escape by running out of doors. Rat dogs were in demand and sought what were not killed with gun and club. Sam Ashton is authority for the story that six of these rats weighed twelve pounds.

Shall We Buy the Water Works?

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen have notified the Columbia Improvement Company that they will investigate the question of buying the water works. The contract between the city and the Improvement Company provides that at the end of ten years the city shall have a right to buy the water works if it sees fit, after giving thirty days notice of its intention. The ten years will soon expire, and the notice was given according to the terms of the contract. The contract further provides that the value of the property shall be fixed by a committee to consist of one man chosen by the Water Company, and one by the city. If these can't agree they shall select a third man who shall decide the question. When the committee has fixed the price the Board of Mayor and Aldermen shall have the right to accept or reject the property as they shall see proper. If the city should buy the water works, bonds would be issued to pay for them. The city would expect to make the money back by having nothing to pay for water for public purposes, and by the tax on private consumers. The question of whether it would be a profitable investment for the city depends altogether upon the price it would have to pay for the water works. It is a very important question to the taxpayers of Columbia, and will be very seriously and exhaustively discussed before any final action is taken in the matter.

Strictly Business.

The HERALD will give $100 to the Kings Daughters, to be used as they please for charity purposes, if, upon investigation, it is proven that the HERALD has not a larger bona fide circulation in MAURY COUNTY than any other paper in the world. We invite our customers to examine our subscription books, and we cordially invite our contemporaries to submit to an investigation.

RELIGIOUS NEWS.

Services at the First Methodist Church next Sunday. Subject for morning sermon: "Heaven an Infallible Harmony." Subject for night service: "God's blessings and their condition." Prayer-meeting Wednesday 7 p. m. Subject, "Love." Teachers' meeting Friday 7 p. m., at residence of H. P. Egners.

Jno. W. HANMER, Jr., Pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Dyer, student at the Vanderbilt, occupied the pulpit at the First Methodist Church last Sunday evening, and preached an interesting sermon.

Mrs. Frame will conduct a series of meetings in the First Methodist Church, commencing the third Sunday in April. She had a great meeting here some four or five years ago.

Rev. W. A. Hayne, of Springfield, Tenn., preached at the First Cumberland Church last Sunday morning and night to large congregations. Both sermons were able and eloquent, and all who heard him were greatly pleased with him.

Palmer Sheppard's horn is a delightful addition to the music at the Methodist Church. The congregation enjoyed intensely his rendition of sacred airs last Sunday morning. Mrs. Payne's organ music and the vocal solo by Mrs. J. W. Hanner, were also charming in their effect.

There will be services at the Baptist Church next Sunday at the usual hours morning and night. Sunday-school at 9:30. C. W. Witherspoon, Superintendent. All are invited to attend.

The State convention of the Christian Endeavor Society met in Memphis yesterday. The Columbia Society sent Miss Nannie Rea as their delegate to represent them in the councils of the general body. A number of others from Columbia are in attendance but not as delegates.

There will be the usual services in the First Presbyterian Church next Sabbath. The subject of the sermon at the 11 o'clock service will be: "Daily Duties, the Point of Contact Between the Christian and the World." The subject at night will be: "Abraham's Sin." Strangers and visitors are cordially welcomed.

A STRANGE SOUNDING STORY.

But Not Strange at All When Fully Explained.

It is the policy—nay, the principle—of the HERALD, to give the news, help or hurt who it may. We of course had rather help than hurt, but we cannot always have things just as we would.

This story is about a certain new stock of clothing being opened up in this city. Towards the proprietor of the said new clothing house, the HERALD certainly has no prejudice. On the contrary we, like very many other people in every district in this good county, have known Gov. Nichols from boyhood and have always regarded him as a fair dealing, plain spoken, jolly, good fellow. In short the HERALD has always been a friend of Mr. A. J. Nichols, alias Gov., and we hope still to be and it is not our fault that there is all this talk about him and his goods and how and where he got them.

We are not responsible for the report that Gov. has burglarized some New York clothing house, or rather that he stands in with a gang already there. We are not only not responsible for this report, but we believe it can be explained away, and with that view we give what Mr. Nichols says of the subject.

He says the report was started in this way. He was opening a box of mobby suits, and several friends being present at the unfolding one suit and priced it, and one of his friends remarked "you can't sell it that low unless you stole it."

Of course the remark was made in jest and no offense was taken. In fact all this talk is "much ado about nothing." The "plain, unvarnished story" is, that A. J. Nichols, alias Gov., at his present stand, corner North Main street and Public Square, has bought the prettiest line of clothing ever brought to this city, for which he paid SPOT CASH, and for which he wants SPOT CASH, and unless other people come down several pegs he will certainly undersell them all.

By paying cash he gets advantage of all the discounts, which amount to ten per cent or more; and by selling for cash he avoids bad debts, which amount to another 25 per cent, and by "quick sales and small profits" he is enabled to make another reduction, so that his friends will find that he will save them at about 40 cents on the dollar of old time prices. Mr. Nichols says "seeing is believing." He is reasonable enough in his requests. He only asks that his friends will come and see. All he wants is a chance. He knows the market and the people, and has perfect confidence in his goods and his prices. Certainly his friends owe him that much, to go and see him before they buy.

Miss Margaret Williams.

The following, copied from the Baltimore News, is an extract from a description of the Peabody concert. Miss Williams, who was the pianist, is the pride of Columbia music lovers, who will be glad to hear of her continued and increasing success.

The News says: "The Second Peabody concert took place last evening and was a great success."

The soloists were Miss Theodore Pafflin, soprano, of New York, and Miss Margaret Williams, of Tennessee, and a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory pianist. Both were received with enthusiasm.

Miss Williams played the Grieg piano, concertos with a minor giving it a splendid rendition. She plays with clearness and power and shades and phrases with rare intelligence. Prof. Adam Hitzel, Jr., directed the orchestra in the concerto."

The Way That Pays Best.

The statement attributed to John Wauanmaker that he considered a one-inch advertisement in a small country newspaper more effective than one hundred thousand circulars, received a remarkable illustration recently when Secretary McDonald, of the Portland, Me., Young Men's Christian Association, stood up at a meeting of the organization and stated that he was curious to know what method of advertising reached the most people. He had circulated several thousand little dogers giving notice of the meeting, and he requested those who had seen them and been moved to come by that means, to rise. The hall was packed with people, and of the entire number only fifteen arose. Then Mr. McDonald asked those to rise who had been influenced to come by reading the notices in the newspapers, and the vast majority of the audience stood upon its feet.—The National Advertiser.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Our class-mates have bestowed upon us the pleasure and privilege of editing the HERALD; but on this gloomy Tuesday we grasp our pen in despair and wonder what we shall write to prove ourselves worthy of the honor conferred. Since our babyhood, almost, we have been readers and admirers of the HERALD and have often thought should we ever get to be "Editor for the HERALD," we would write items that would be simply grand. But alas the opportunity is ours, and we have only a conglomeration of school-girl ideas to send you.

Miss Louella Cook will be Editor for the Democrat and Earnest Sheppard for the Current for the month of March.

Valentine's Day came and passed and many of our fair girls and some of the teachers were made happy by Cupid's messages.

One of our Non-graduate girls says she only received one valentine, but since "it" can walk and talk and keep her supplied with bou-bons, he is contented.

The following pupils deserve creditable mention for being punctual and present every day this school year: Lila A. Quinn, Alma Walker, Mary Anne Taylor, Lizzie Branch, Lucy Haley, Harry Frierson, Gene Mitchell, Mattie Porter, Sidney Cameron, Witherspoon Hays, Adrain Pickett, Fannie Branch, Willie Dorell, Estelle Finley, May Lamar, Kate Latta, Lavinia Quartermann, Irene Kippax, Clinton Thompson, Mary Walker Sykes, Jessie Tengerand, Nat Jones, Minnie Weatherford, Maggie Pilkington, Odessa Branch, Mary Willie Frierson, Mary Lou Cameron, Beesie Walker, Erwin McEwen, Mattie Alexander, Clifford Haley, Ben Latta, Vivian Williams, Clara Lamar, Lillie Kippax, Adella McKennon.

Master Buford Cook of Hall No. 2, has been absent several days on account of sickness.

Junius Goslin, one of the pupils of the Eighth grade, has discontinued, much to the regret of his class-mates.

Miss Rebecca Carpenter of Fourth grade received the greatest number of extras in Hall No. 2, for February, the number being twenty-eight.

The highest scholarship averages for February, are as follows: Ninth grade, Angie Bennett and Earnest Walker, 92%; Eighth grade, Sallie Friel, 97%; Seventh grade, Gene Mitchell, 97%; Sixth grade, Fannie Branch, 96%; Fifth grade, Irene Kippax, 95%; Fourth grade, Lillian Gant, 95.5-8; Third grade, Clyde Gant, 99.4-7; Second grade, William Hine, 97.2-7; First grade, Marion Saffarous, 94%.

The following class averages were made by the different grades for February: Ninth grade 83-3; Eighth grade 89.3-7; Seventh grade 89-1; Sixth grade 88.22-29; Fifth grade 89.2-35; Fourth grade 83.13-38; Third grade 87.35-58; Second grade 87.11-18; First grade 85-4.

Hall No. 4 deeply regrets the absence of Walter Addison. We hope to see him in school again soon.

Master Robert Dodson is at home-sick this week. We hope to see him in school again soon.

The attendance throughout the building was very much less than usual last week on account of the rainy weather. We think the ground is a little better.

First No. 2 is having some very interesting essays on Tennessee, its "Products, resources, etc." The book was presented to Hall No. 2, by Dr. D. C. Godwin, Commissioner of Agriculture of Tennessee, and is greatly appreciated by them.

Hall No. 3 will celebrate Washington's Birthday in an appropriate manner on next Friday. Mrs. Mitchell cordially invites all friends to be present. Exercises will begin at 1 o'clock.

Wednesday being Washington's birthday the flag on our building was hoisted early in the morning. First Charles permitted the 7th, 8th and 9th grades to elect some one to hoist it, as they had contributed the largest sum towards buying it. Alma Walker was chosen and in a little while the flag was unfurled and is now floating over our time honored building.
